Polish Residents Request

REQUIEM FOR SOLDIERS

Will Gather in St. James' Church to Pray for Unfortunate Countrymen Slain Fighting for Three Nations.

Polish residents of Danielson are to devote a part of the morning of independence day to attending at St. James' church, a solemn high mass of requiem in remembrance of the members of their unhappy nation who have fallen in the gigantic European war while fighting with the arms of the Russian czar, the German and Austrian emperors; for the brave Polish people, once one of the greatest independent nations of the Old World, have been immersed to serve under the standards of the particular nations that have come to exercise control over particular sections of what was once the kingdom of Poland. That it may be that again, at least in integrity, is the sole hope of reward that seems likely to follow the unlimited sacrifices that the Polish people have been required to make for them, in the struggle that now rages Europe.

In Danielson's Polish colony, grown quite numerous during the past three or four years, there are few families who have not lost members on the battlefields of the Old World. Some have died fighting under the banner of Kaiser Wilhelm, others under that of Emperor Francis Joseph and still others under that of Czar Nicholas.

Tomorrow morning their relatives are, far removed from the theaters of war and their animosities and read cruelties will kneel together, on the anniversary of the independence of the United States, will pray for the repose of the souls that have been given as sacrifices to lust and pride and the desire to prevail. The sermon at the mass will be preached by a Polish priest.

PUTNAM

Walter Holda, Who Disputed Paying Traveling Photographer, Fined $3 and Costs—Death of Richard Hughes and Arthur D. MacIntyre Applies for Appointment to Reserve Corps.

Walter Holda, Putnam, and David Goodman, an itinerant photographer, were before Judge Joseph H. Fuller at a special session of the city court Saturday afternoon. Both men were charged with breach of the peace. The trouble leading to the arrest arose Saturday morning when Goodman took a picture of Holda for which Holda refused to pay. When Goodman saw that Holda would not pay he held him and sent for the police. In the meantime Holda struck Goodman and smashed his glasses, causing a cut under the left eye. The fracas occurred on Elm street, near the store of Walter J. Bartlett, and a crowd gathered. For a few seconds blows fell thick and fast, with Goodman getting the worst of it. Holda's shirt was nearly torn from his back. When Captain of Police Joseph A. Ryan came he arrested both men and took them to headquarters. In the court Saturday afternoon testimony given by Peter Demara and Abraham Shuffan, who saw the fight, indicated that Goodman had not overstepped his rights in demanding his pay. The judge found Holda guilty and imposed a fine of $3 and costs. With the exception of $1.80 for witness fees, the costs were remitted. The case against Goodman was dismissed.

All trains coming into Putnam Saturday were behind schedule and some were as much as two hours late. The Bar Harbor express went through Friday night in several sections and the 2:25 express from Boston Saturday afternoon went in two sections. The traffic at the local station is the heaviest in years.

of the fastest and best played of the season.

In his palmy days, Roy Rock, captain of the local outfit and an ex-leaguer, never played faster or better ball and his efforts were ably backed up by every member of the local team.

Houlihan set the local rosters wild and shattered the last hope of the Southbridge rosters when he drove the ball over the center fielder's head for a clean home run, the hit being one of the longest ever seen in a game in this section of New England.

Tomorrow, the Fourth, there is going to be a lot of red baseball right here in Danielson. The Hartford Colonials, one of the strongest of the semi-professional clubs of the state, will line up against Manager Williams' outfit.

The local boys are feeling pretty cocky over that cleanup at Southbridge Saturday and the ambition is to put it over the boys from the capital city both in the morning and afternoon games. Incidentally the Danielson team has played great baseball all season, the best baseball that any Danielson team has played in the past twenty years.

A four-piece communion set, valued at $400 and 375 years old, was presented the Woodstock Congregational church Sunday by Mrs. Agnes E. Bowen, of Pleasant Valley, Conn. The communion set was originally given the Woodstock church in 1741 by William Lyon. In 1895 it was discarded but was later recovered by Edward E. Bowen, who was a resident of Woodstock. The set was made by one of England's most famous pewterers. There are two chalices, a cup and baptismal bowls in the set. The Ladies' Aid society of the church has given a Sheridan table which was made in 1895 for holding the set. The set is given to the church on condition that one be loaned, sold or given away.

The rumored shortage of Turkish tobacco may affect other manufacturers, but causes us no concern whatever.

It is a well known fact that Turkish tobacco improves with age, and for years we have had, and now have in storage in the United States by far the largest supply of pure Turkish tobacco ever carried by any manufacturer.

So large is our supply of pure Turkish tobacco that we are now making the above standard brands out of the 1910 and 1911 crops, ageing our leaf from the subsequent crops for future use.

We maintain in the Orient our own organization, and are not dependent upon the haphazard supply from brokers and speculators.

Notwithstanding the difficulties of ocean traffic, we have continued shipments from the Orient, adding to our already enormous leaf stock more than a million of pounds in the past few months—the most recent cargo, amounting to about four hundred thousand pounds of the best Xanthi and Cavalla leaf, having arrived at the Port of New York on Thursday, June 22, 1916.

Each individual cigarette in every package of the above brands is guaranteed 100% Pure Turkish Tobacco.
